“ I enjoyed having Kevin as a classmate from about 3rd grade thru high school graduation. We rode the same school bus for a few years and were both in Future Farmer's of America. I remember Kevin for his offbeat sense of humor and smile - just like in this photo. I'm saddened to learn of his passing.

“ I was shocked and saddened to wake up to find this news on FB. Kevin was a classmate and I worked with Lynn for several years. Both are great people and I have always admired their close relationship. As our kids grew up, our daughter's became BFF's and now I have Grandchildren who are interacting with the Fett's as well. I don't know what to say Lynn, except that I know the Lord wrapped his arms around Kevin and took him home to live in his house forever. May you find peace and comfort knowing that he was chosen to be an Angel. Hugs to you all and have a blessed Holiday Season.

“ Dear Lynn and family, I'm so sorry to hear of your loss; My sympathy, prayers and thoughts are with you all at this difficult time. Kevin was truly a great guy and made the most of his God given people skills, he was just genuinely nice! I remember way back in our high school days how he would stick up for the under dog and peers who were bullied in the locker room. I agree with others that Heaven has gained a great person albeit much too soon.

Sincerely,

“ I am shocked! This does not seem real. This news should truly remind fellow classmates of our ultimate mortality on this earth. Kevin was one of the anchors to our AHS 1974 class reunions and also a good friend. In high school, Kevin was probably the toughest of the "tough guys". A true "south ender" through & through.

Although Kevin had this ultra macho bad-boy image in high school, I learned after high school that he was a genuinely warm, gentle, and soft spoken devout Christian. He was an advocate and work horse for our class reunions and I spent considerable time talking to him every 5 years when we would get together in Algona before, during, and after each reunion. Kevin was a pure class act and he will be sorely missed by everyone that knew him.

One of the best memories I have of Kevin was at our 25th class reunion when he sang karaoke to "Puff The Magic Dragon". Kevin had a great voice and I had never heard it before. I just remember listening to this "soft voice" from this tough guy singing this song..... the ultimate contrast from what I expected. A performance I will never forget.

Condolences to Lynn, the family, and friends. We will all miss Kevin, but I can tell you with certainty that he is at home with Jesus in Heaven today and he is happier than he's ever been reunited with the believers before him and as he awaits a reunion with his fellow believers still living on this earth. God truly blessed this world when he put Kevin among us. I'm privileged to have known him and will never forget him.
